WATER USERS CAN'T AGREE ON PLANS

longer time within which to reimburse the government for the money spent in the development of the projects. C. E. Schenk, secretary of the Southside Minidoka Water Users' association, told the secretary that the difficulties of the farmers would be solved and that the community was able to ready to manage the project; that its members must first be educated up to a point where they could undertake an efficient control.

"That is the most modest statement that has been made at these hearings," Secretary Lane murmured. A chuckle went around.

"We want a long period of payment," Mr. Schenk resumed. "That would largely solve our problem."

Wants Complete Control.
Mr. Rush representing the water users of the north side of the Minidoka project, stated that the water users wanted to take over the complete management of the project. Upon being questioned by representative Baker, of California, he stated that longer time on payments should be given. He also complained that, as things are now, the project engineers can go ahead with construction whether the water users will or not. "As long as the service has complete charge, there will be complaints," he said. "Control should be divided up between the water users' association and the service."

Secretary Lane advised the representatives of the water users to get together and make up their minds. He said that it seemed to him that they were all suspicious of one another.

Collecting Dues.
Earl R. Smith, of Yuma, Arizona, chairman of the executive board of the National Water Users' association, in which the local associations of some of the projects are included, while on the stand, outlined the force in the hands of the water users' association to collect payments. The associations report nonpayment of dues to the project engineers and the water is shut off. Mr. Smith said that were the collection of payments for the government placed in the association's jurisdiction, this same power would be employed in collecting them.

PRESIDENT REMITS AN ARIZONA INDIAN'S FINE
Washington, D. C., May 12.—For the first time since entering the white house, President Wilson has exercised his authority to pardon or commute sentences of federal prisoners. Favorable action was taken on five cases which were sent to him by the department of justice, the sentence in each case being commuted.

In passing upon the petition of Richard Dickinson, an Apache Indian, president Wilson was required to extend a knowledge of intoxicating drinks. He decided that "drinking" is not as bad as it sounds, and favored the Indian who was convicted on charges of giving "drinking" to another Indian on the Fort McDowell reservation, Ariz.

Dickinson was convicted in the United States district court at Phoenix last May, and sentenced to 60 days in prison and a fine of $100. The prison sentence was made retroactive from the time of the man's arrest, so the president has only the fine to commute.

Clemence was made on the recommendation of the judge and district attorney, who said Dickinson was prosecuted as a test case for the purpose of breaking up infractions of liquor laws on the Indian reservation.

BATTLESHIP AT BROWNSVILLE

a courier to federal Maj. Estaban Ramirez demanding the surrender of Ramirez and threatening an attack within 12 hours. Maj. Ramirez sent back word to the Constitutionalist, to "come on." Automobiles flying American flags and bearing citizens of Brownsville went to meet the "Constitutionalist" when they appeared today and asked them to direct their fire so as to avoid shooting into the city.

PARRAL FALLS INTO HANDS OF REBELS

Federals Are Marching to Chihuahua, Accompanied by Most of the Townspeople, Fleeing from the Rebels.

Riding everything from burros to bicycles, 500 residents of Parral are moving overland with the federal garrison of the Chihuahua mining town, peacefully occupied last week by the "Constitutionalist" forces.

From Parral to Chihuahua city is a march of 300 miles, and sufficient to the townspeople is mingled with the comedy of their means of transportation, related refugees arriving here today. The trip will require a week.

Most of the refugees are residents who had declared themselves against the revolution, but changed their minds when the 1200 federal troops were withdrawn.

Fighting En Route.
Aside from the trials on the women and children during the long march, suit before arrival at the state capital. Already rumors have gone back to Parral of fighting in which the many groups of insurgents have begun to harass the retreating federal column preliminary to an actual attack. A large portion of the column of infantry, necessitating slow progress, while the insurgents are all mounted and easily proceed.

Gen. Antonio Rabago, military governor and commander of the northern military zone, at Chihuahua city, has issued a statement explaining the sudden evacuation of the southern part of the state. He declares that the Parral garrison merely will assume its duty at the state capital, which is of no more than 500 men, while another strong column reported moving north from Parral to Chihuahua.

Americana Belongs Report.
B. E. Leonard, a young American who is master mechanic of a mine at Parral, arrived here Saturday night confirming the capture of the town by the "Constitutionalist" forces. He said he rode all the way to Chihuahua city, meeting on the way half a dozen insurgent bands, each of 15 to 20 men. All were mobilizing to cut off the federal retreat.

Also I passed the federal column on the march," he said. "There were 1200 infantry, cavalry and 12 machine guns. But the insurgents have as many rapid firing captured recently from a supply train together with many brand new rifles and much ammunition."

"There surely is a bit before the federals can reach the state capital. Parral was occupied before I left by 600 rebels under General Monroy. He is recognized as commander-in-chief of the insurgents. There are about 4000 altogether in the district."

FREE REIN IN SEIZING MUNITIONS

Drastic measures are to be undertaken by the United States army to break up the ammunition smuggling along the Mexican border. Orders were received by Gen. H. L. Scott, commanding the Second cavalry brigade, from Brig. Gen. Tasker Bliss at Fort San Houston, instructing the patrol officers not to hesitate to seize arms and munitions of war not in the hands of customs or other public authorities, or under a customs bond where there is reasonable ground to believe that an attempt is being made to ship them to Mexico.

This is the result of the recent decision of the United States supreme court that a mere shipment of arms and munitions of war with intent to take them into Mexico constitutes a violation of the joint resolution and executive orders, regardless of whether the shipment is part of a military expedition.

RUSEK STORE AT JIMENEZ DESTROYED

Chihuahua City, Mex., May 12.—Refugees arriving here from Jimenez say the large mercantile house of Rusek, which has been here since the second time, and destroyed by fire. The store which is one of the largest in the state, was not less than 20 days ago by supposed rebels. Its destruction by fire followed its second looting. Tomas Salazar, with several other refugees, was in the town at the time.

PROMISED ATTACK ON JUAREZ FAILS

Monday was the day set for the attack upon Juarez in the event that the federals did not evacuate it Sunday night. It has not been attacked. The federals are still in control. Col. Juan N. Vasquez says: "I have been waiting since the 10th of May for an attack to be made. I am still waiting. I fear none."

CARRANZA BIDS FOR AMERICAN SYMPATHY

Washington, D. C., May 12.—The Carranza junta here has announced that if Carranza is taken into custody all claims of Americans for damages incurred during the various revolutions will be promptly settled. A telegram from Carranza authorized the announcement.

FORMER MAYOR ARRESTED, RELEASED AND REARRESTED

Antonio Balderama, former mayor of Juarez, was arrested Saturday in that town charged with political offenses. He was released Saturday evening and was rearrested Sunday. On Monday he was again reported to have been liberated.

There is a rumor current in Juarez that changes have been made in the civil offices there, and some of the present officeholders will be removed. Mayor Juan Z. Flores has been advised of any such changes. He has been warning it he said: "I would be very glad if they would remove me and put some one else in my place. I have been granted a leave of absence for 20 days, but not one has been named to take my place during my absence, and I am ordered to return. I cannot get the rest I need. I will not resign, but I will willingly resign my office if someone else is appointed in my place."

BOTH ROADS ARE OPEN FROM JUAREZ TO CHIHUAHUA

Both the Mexican Central and the Mexico North Western railroads are operating to Chihuahua city. The telegraph lines are in working order and no rebels have been reported north of the state capital.

WHEAT STOCKS NARROW SUPPLY DECREASES

Holiday Abroad Affects the New York Market—Sugar Issues Decline.

NOTE—All market news on this page reflects closing sale (specified) Monday, May 12.

New York, May 12.—With early speculation so dull as to give promise of the smallest day's business of the year, traders found difficulty today to attract a following on either the short or the long side by concentrating on sugar stocks.

The holiday abroad and the possibility of important decisions by the supreme court restricted business. Some selling was caused by the falling off in certain lines of business, the spread of labor troubles and the unfavorable steel tonnage figures, published after the close Saturday, but prices soon steadied and the later movement was alternately up and down within a narrow margin.

The sugar stocks showed exceptional weakness. American sugar lost two and Beet sugar one.

Bonds were steady. Some of the coal shares continued to reflect uneasiness over the threatened prosecution by the government of Jersey Central, but the 30 and 300 and Pennsylvania sold at 111, a new low record. Pressure was also effective against Harvest preferred and the Virginia-Carolina chemical issues. The stagnation in business in the afternoon was relieved for while by a selling move in which the active list declined half a point or more.

Lead sold 1 1/4 and Lulligh Valley 1 1/4 below Saturday's close. The market closed heavy. Bearish sentiment was increased by the steadily falling level of investment shares, many of which established new low levels. The steel market was quiet. Stocks of various classes, which sold at low figures for the year. Prices did not vary much in the first hour, but the last half of the day ended around the lowest of the day.

Chicago, Ill., May 12.—Cross examination of Belle Schreiber, chief witness against the negro pugilist Jack Johnson, charged with violation of the anti-vice law, continued today in federal judge Carpenter's court today.

WHEAT STOCKS NARROW SUPPLY DECREASES

Heavy Receipts of Hogs at Stockyards Weaken the Provision Market.

Chicago, Ill., May 12.—Wheat prices hardened today because the United States district court statement was expected to show a decrease. World shipments were larger than looked for, but the effect was offset by the fact that supplies on passage exhibited a falling off. Chances for a lowering of domestic crop prospects, however, the bulls. The opening was unchanged to 1/4 to 3/4 up. July started at 90 to 90 1/2, a gain of 1/4 to 1/2 to 3/4, touched 91 1/2 and rose to 91 3/4.

The close was easy with July 3/4 to 5/4 net lower, at 89 1/2 to 89 3/4. July corn opened 3/4 higher at 54 1/2, sold at 54 1/2 to 54 3/4, and then advanced to 54 3/4.

The close was easy at 54 1/2 for July, a net gain of 1/4.

WOOD PULP IS DUTY FREE, SAYS COURT

Washington, D. C., May 12.—The customs court today ruled that European nations are entitled to the free entry of wood pulp and paper under the "most favored nation" clause of their commercial treaties with the United States, because the free entry privilege is granted to Canada under the only operative clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

The court also held that the treasury department had placed a correct interpretation on the Canadian reciprocity act immediately admitting wood pulp and paper from without special action by Canada. Dissenting opinions were delivered. Norway, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Germany claimed the right of free entry of wood pulp and paper from their respective countries. President Taft declined to grant the request and referred the question to the courts.

Several bales of hay, a hay shed and a part of a fence at 2531 Babcock street, today burned at 12:45 Monday. The property is owned by J. H. Harper. The fire started from a bon fire in the yard.

It is supposed to have been caused by a match, thrown aside by the driver after lighting a cigarette, a quantity of oakum on the wagon belonging to Gus Momen & Co., caught fire shortly after 2 o'clock Monday.
